Meats

In today's world of supermarkets and mass-production, it can be very difficult to find a butcher with the same sense of service and friendliness that has always been one of the pleasures of a great neighborhood meat market. You know, the kind of store you've always heard your parents talk about, or that you might have moved away from, finding only that there's nothing comparable to your favorite shop in your new location. Petty's Meats has been local to the Longwood area for over 30 years, which has allowed us to develop a rapport with the Central Florida community that is unsurpassed among food and wine merchants.

You will never find any prepackaged assembly line meats at Petty's. Just fresh, cut-to-order USDA Prime and moderately marbled Choice Beef, premium pork, and the freshest, best chicken available. Our seafood selection features fish and shellfish of the highest quality. You can rest assured that our master butchers will never sell a piece of meat that they would not take home to their own families.

Sound good? Then it's probably no wonder that Petty's Meats is regularly chosen as the number one meat market by Central Florida families. With this accolade, comes a responsibility to uphold the standards and expectations that our reputation demands.
